

Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

Almost three months have elapsed since I was stricken with a stomach rupture. I've been back on the job for a few weeks and still I haven't talked much in this column about my operation. What's the use of having an operation if you can't talk about it?

A stomach rupture is something rather serious. Or at least mine was. After the operation I woke up and saw some sort of gear on my arm through which they were giving me glucose—well, I thought my time was up. I was almost afraid to ask the nurse what was going on. After a while I got up enough courage to propound a few questions. I found out that since I was unable to eat any food that it was necessary that I have some way of getting the glucose.

Water! I've never known how good water could be until two days after my operation. At the second day dragged on, I still wanted water. Just a drop or two. They kept giving me water. Finally I was able to drink a little of the water. And in the middle of the day my doctor came in and told the nurse she could give me some water. What a relief! The doctor said that I could see myself filling up on water when I heard the doctor say: "Four teaspoons of water every two hours." I was told that two or three days after my operation I was given a full ounce of water every hour and half of it was ice water.

Something happened to my appetite while I was in the hospital. Since my return home I haven't found a cup of coffee that tastes good to me. Consequently I've just about quit drinking coffee. I like tea and carbonated drinks are out. I can't stand 'em. Maybe this wouldn't be good for me anyway.

Cigarettes! I had been smoking over two packs a day until August 9—the day I was stricken. I had a pack at 2 o'clock that afternoon with only six smoked out of it. I still have that pack at the house. It's sort of a souvenir. Three days after my operation I asked the doctor about a cigarette and he told me to wait a day or two. I waited. Then I asked him again about a cigarette. He told me to wait a day or two. I waited. And an still waited. It so happened that by the time I had waited a day or two the second time I told him I wanted a cigarette. And he said I couldn't have one. The nicotine is gone from my fingers and when I hold out my hand it doesn't shake.

Operations are all right. The medical profession is wonderful. I was with the old body when it's all mended up. With a little co-operation on the part of the patient and the medical staff, a modern hospital can almost accomplish miracles. Or at least, that is what they did in my case. My condition was such that an operation was necessary immediately after I was stricken. So we had an operation.

As the notion strikes me I tell you from time to time, more and more of the old body comes back. I had rocked along through life for 43 years without missing a day from work on account of illness. It was a new experience for me. And, after all, when a fellow spends $1,000.00 cash on a deal he ought to have some opportunity to show it to many, many times in days to come.

Beans Sell For Excellent Price

Bean growers were a wide smile Wednesday morning when the OPA ceiling was taken into effect. The new price is $4.80 per bushel. Wednesday beans sold for fair prices throughout the Glades. Pits sold from $3.60 to $3.90 per bushel. Tenderbeans brought $4.20 to $4.50 and about 500 of Valentines brought ceiling—$4.50.

TO SPEAK FOR CALDWELL

Earl Gardner will be heard over WJNO tonight at 7:15 when he will be heard of the new democratic candidate for governor. He has a special message to the Glades people.

Successful Ramie Machine Working in Moore Haven

The Canal Point section is not the only area interested in producing ramie in the Moore Haven, Glades County Democratic last week carried an interesting story about completion of a successful machine to de-ramie cane. The complete story from the Democrat appears below:

While other parts of the Everglades area are talking of planting tremendous acreages of ramie, the fiber crop which bids fair to become one of the greatest of staple crops for the muck area, the crop is already growing and is being successfully de-ramied by the Moore Haven by the Sea Island Mills, Inc., of New York City.

Several months ago, this company moved into Moore Haven and very quickly made arrangements to start de-raming cane. These programs are being presented as a club service to the community and are under the supervision of Mrs. Joseph Kahn, chairman of the fine arts committee. There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend. Refreshments are served during the social hour which follows each program.

What goes on in a football field, what kind of gear protects your boy when he makes those flying tackles and smacking blocks? What is the "formation"? All of these questions that may be in your mind and many others relating to football will be explained and demonstrated by Coach Frank Ostens and several members of his Blue Devil squad during the football program. The program will be presented by C. A. Moberg, president (chairman), with G. M. Belk, president, presiding by the business. Several outstanding musical numbers are also being arranged by the business. The program will be served in the home economics rooms. Come on out and see your share in making this the best of all years. The program will be held in the high school auditorium of Monday night, at 8:15.

he would prefer to see a number of farmers plant small acreages of ramie in the future. Concerning future plans for expansion here, Mr. Neiman said that he could make no statement on this for the present. The company already maintains de-raming plants elsewhere and he would like to see the process for the time being. However, he stated that it was likely that a small de-raming plant might be located near the present experimental work and that after the war it was quite likely that the de-raming process that the entire de-raming process would be done here on more modern machines, perfected both in design and in operation. The machine is simply the washing and bleaching of the fiber making it ready for weaving. A small sample of ramie was shown by the washer at Cassidy Cleaners Wednesday afternoon which gave a good idea of how the process works.

Mr. Neiman has with him several samples of materials made from ramie and from ramie and rayon mixes. One shirt made from pure rayon has the appearance of fine linen. Much attention has been attracted to the experimental work here and State Agriculture Commissioner Nathan Bayne has made several trips to view the progress of the work. Most of those who have viewed the work done here have been highly impressed that it does a more thorough job with less loss of fiber than any machine now in use.

Artists' Program At Woman's Club

An artists' program and public reception, featuring Mrs. Frank Anderson, vocal soloist, and Mrs. Luther Anderson, pianist, was held at the Pahokee Woman's Club building on Thursday night of this week under the auspices of the Woman's Club.

This was the first of a series of artists' programs that will be sponsored by the Woman's Club building. These programs are being presented as a club service to the community and are under the supervision of Mrs. Joseph Kahn, chairman of the fine arts committee. There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend. Refreshments are served during the social hour which follows each program.

THE Everglades Business and Professional Woman's Club will conduct a business meeting at the Canal Point section of the Everglades on Tuesday night at 8 p. m. Mrs. Miriam L. Dulany, president, will preside. The program will be presented by Mrs. Edna Barrett, Mrs. Sadie Barwick and Mrs. Wanda Bacon.

ARCADIA RODEO

The All-Florida Championship Rodeo will be held at Arcadia on Rodeo Day, Nov. 11. In addition to a special program of all star Ringling circus acts, will be featured on the program, "Oscar the Ox," a story that won national fame for his owner when he journeyed on foot from Silver Springs to the New York World's Fair will be in the receiving line to greet old friends, according to Billy Wells, manager of the Arcadia Rodeo.

Halloween Party Well Attended; Is Huge Success

A record-breaking crowd attended the annual Halloween carnival and party for Pahokee and Arcadia on Sunday night at the Fair Field Tuesday night with a benign harvest moon. All proportions out to last night's Halloween party. Approximately 700 children were entertained at parties and dances. The program was presented by Mrs. Edna Barrett, Mrs. Sadie Barwick and Mrs. Wanda Bacon.

With Capt. A. Moberg giving a running account of the program, the children were divided into three age groups for the parade. The first group, the youngest, were hard-put to make their decisions. With Capt. A. Moberg giving a running account of the program, the children were divided into three age groups for the parade. The first group, the youngest, were hard-put to make their decisions.

Each of the winners was awarded a $2.50 cash prize and the first prize was awarded to the group that had the most pictures taken together for an official picture by Pahokee's amateur photographer, P. P. DeMayo.

The parade was held in grade groups and the first six grades were held on Laird Field where contests were played, favors distributed to the children and refreshments served. The seventh and eighth grade children went to the Woman's Club building for an evening of indoor games and refreshments while the high school students were drawn to the gymnasium for a contest of "Hot and Cold" from Robert Lamp's Win-Band and enjoyed dancing with class sponsors and room mothers.

It was a highly successful affair thanks to members of the Pahokee and Canal Point Parent-Teacher Associations who were sponsors and to local Lions, Rotarians and Elks, who donated the music for the evening. The program was presented by Mrs. A. Moberg, general chairman; Mrs. E. M. Elliott, assistant general chairman; Mrs. J. R. Schrodler, parade and awards committee chairman; Mrs. Ruth Hutton and Mrs. Ralph Stanley as group captains in the parade.

Others too numerous to mention also spent much time and effort in assisting to make the night a successful one. The program was presented by Mrs. A. Moberg, general chairman; Mrs. E. M. Elliott, assistant general chairman; Mrs. J. R. Schrodler, parade and awards committee chairman; Mrs. Ruth Hutton and Mrs. Ralph Stanley as group captains in the parade.

Cooks Prepare An Excellent Menu For The Firemen

Members of the Pahokee Fire Department enjoyed a chicken supper last Friday night at the favorite cooking spot back of the water plant. Sam McKinstry, Jr., and Marvin Levins were the chefs in actual charge of food preparation. They had a whole flock of able assistants but Mrs. McKinstry and Levins actually gave the delicacies the finishing touches.

Chicken, fried to a golden brown and French fried potatoes cooked only as skinny and marinated in a sauce of tomato and onion—along with a massive bowl full of fresh corn made up the substantial part of the menu. Then, of course, there were little delicacies such as pickles, butter for the corn, hot rolls and a pot of hot coffee.

The editor of this newspaper—being on a special diet—was forced to accept the invitation to the affair might not be worth while—since he is unable to partake of fried foods—as yet. Nevertheless, the editor of the party he found a pot of chicken stew the like of which he had never tasted in his life. So, diet or no diet, it was an enjoyable affair for all concerned.

First Frost Of Season Oct. 29th

Sunday Morning, October 29, that's another date to remember in the calendar of the year. Why? Well, because it is the date of the first frost this fall. The first frost of the season was recorded at 25 to 30 per cent damage from frost on the ground. The frost was recorded at 25 to 30 per cent damage from frost on the ground.

Rose M. Henderson Has Birthday Party

Mrs. Vinson Henderson entered into her 50th birthday celebration with a host of friends and family members. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Henderson and was a most enjoyable affair. The program was presented by Mrs. Henderson and her family members.

Girl Scout Troop For Canal Point

The Canal Point Parent-Teacher Association at a meeting in the school auditorium Wednesday afternoon voted to sponsor a Girl Scout Troop in Canal Point. The program was presented by Mrs. Henderson and her family members.

Pahokee Baptist Church Notes

Beginning Sunday morning, the eleven o'clock preaching hour, a service will be held at the church. The program was presented by Mrs. Henderson and her family members.

Press Meeting

Two outstanding speakers are scheduled to appear on the Convention program of the Florida Press Association, November 21, when members of Florida's Fourth Estate gather at Spring Springs. Professor Wm. Carlton of the University of Florida will be the featured speaker at the noon luncheon and Bill Power of Detroit, public relations representative of the Chevrolet Motor Car Company. Both men are tops in their field and bring messages of vital interest.

Judge Robbins Is Speaker At Joint Rotary-Lion Meet

Judge R. P. Robbins of West Jacksonville was guest speaker at a joint luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Lions and Rotary Club on Tuesday night at the hotel. The subject of Judge Robbins' talk was "Joyous Delinquency." He gave some interesting accounts of what was being done at the County Jail in West Jacksonville to rehabilitate wayward children. Knowing that the local civic clubs are making an effort to obtain a probation officer for this area, he told his audience that present laws restricted the appointment of more than one probation officer for each 100,000 residents in the county, however, a move was underway to have the number of schools in the county increased to obtain one of the probation officers and he promised the club members if this law was passed and it was within his power to do so he would see that the Glades area had a competent assistant probation officer.

P. P. DeMayo announced that the community had an opportunity to obtain one of the probation officers and he promised the club members if this law was passed and it was within his power to do so he would see that the Glades area had a competent assistant probation officer.

Palm Beach Post Backs Roosevelt

The Palm Beach Post officially announced its endorsement of the re-election of President Roosevelt in Wednesday morning's edition. The paper stated that the newspaper's position was a matter of principle and stated that "a useful tradition should be preserved."

"That tradition now has been broken and is no longer an issue," Wednesday's editorial said. The paper stated that the newspaper's position was a matter of principle and stated that "a useful tradition should be preserved."

MRS. ANDERSON HONOR—It is indeed a pleasant sight to see the ending face of Mr. J. Anderson in these parts after a season of several weeks' while recovering from an operation at a hospital at Rochester, Minn., this summer. She wishes to express her thanks through this column to her many friends who cheered her with their lovely cards, messages and gifts during her stay at the hospital.

Octogenarian Is Feted On Birthday

Three score and ten-plus ten. That's not unusual in these parts, says A. J. Bowman, of Canal Point, who celebrated his 80th birthday last Sunday at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hewell.

Among relatives present for the occasion were Mr. Bowman's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pennington, of Belle Glade, son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hewell and family, and numerous grand-children.

Mr. Bowman, who has been a Mason for more than 20 years, is highly esteemed in the local lodge.

BETTY SPEER HONORED

Miss Betty Speer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Speer of Lake Wales, was elected social vice president of the Baptist Student Union at the State Convention in Lake City Oct. 30-32. Every college in Florida was represented at the gathering. Miss Speer is a sophomore at FSCW at Tallahassee.

Executive Group Of PTA In Meet

The executive committee of the Pahokee Parent-Teacher Association at a meeting Wednesday afternoon voted to recommend a PTA donation of $100 to the election of a new principal.

C. A. Moberg, newly appointed chairman of Pahokee Club Pack 23, announced that the Pack was being requested in a meeting of parents to be held at the school on Nov. 9. Since PTA is sponsoring the local club, a movement it was decided that refreshments would be served by PTA at this meeting and President Moberg presided at the meeting, according to Mrs. J. M. Elliott in charge.

Ceiling Price On Beans Is Boosted

The ceiling price on beans was raised to $4.80 per bushel effective Nov. 1, according to the announcement by OPA. Immediately following the hurricane two weeks ago members of the Florida Vegetable Growers Association and other growers of beans in the area got busy and contacted Washington officials in an effort to put a stop to the extension of the damage to growing crops. They were successful in their effort as proven by the new price ceiling.

Fifty Cents For A Shave In Pahokee

Many years ago a shave cost a dime and a haircut 25c. That situation prevailed before a couple of World Wars. Today in Pahokee a shave costs 50 cents, a haircut, four bits or half a buck, and to have your noggin trimmed up a bit you have to cross the palm. These prices prevail at Grocers Barber Shop and Pugh Brothers Barber Shop. What if you have not been informed by other barbers in the Glades as to their charges as of today.

Harvesting of the sugar cane

Harvesting of the sugar cane crop in the Florida Everglades started here Wednesday with production expected to exceed that of last year and with a good supply of labor on hand for the first time since the start of the season.

Way W. Moran, executive vice-president of the United States Sugar Corp., largest single cane producer in continental United States, said, "We are starting our fourteenth harvest with a good supply of labor for the first time since Pearl Harbor, and anticipate that production this year will be better than that of last year."

Largest group of workers is composed of Jamaicans supplied through contracts with the War Food Administration. In addition, the company has a contingent of German war prisoners, who have proved satisfactory in field operations, along with such domestic labor as is still available.

"Condition of the cane crop, despite the October hurricane, is advanced beyond that of last year. Conditions of growth are better and we have been able to improve the cultivation of the fields because of a more ample labor supply during the cultivation season," Moran said.

Approximately 200 acres of cane will be available for grinding at the sugar house and, in addition to raw sugar, the company also will produce 10 million gallons of blackstrap molasses.

Harvesting of the cane will start simultaneously on the company's 12 plantations, which extend for some 50 miles around the southern shores of Lake Okechobee.

Grinding operations at the sugar house will begin Friday as the cane is brought in and will continue 24 hours a day until the close of the harvest. The company also will grind cane for independent growers in the area.

Members of the National League didn't wait until the wind stopped blowing before they got in contact with their senators and congressmen. Results as obtained by the growers this time is substantiated by what has been done when wholehearted cooperation is exerted by all concerned.

Revival Continues At Church Of God

Revival services are still in progress at the Church of God—located at the railroad crossing between Pahokee and Canal Point. Rev. C. F. Foster is the pastor conducting the revival. His sermon topic for Sunday night will be "The Mark of the Seal." Other topics to be discussed during the coming week of the revival are: "The Mark of the Seal," "The Mark of the Seal," "The Mark of the Seal." The revival will also be a regular church service Sunday morning. Many friends are invited to attend the revival. There will be good music and good singing, he said.

PEOPLE AHEAD OF LEADERS

The American people are not only right in their thinking about public issues but they show more common sense than their leaders. As early as November, 1935, less than three years after Hitler came into power, a Gallup survey revealed that seven voters in ten favored a bigger army and navy, and eight out of ten a larger air force. After the European war broke out in September, 1939, the percentage favoring rearmament rose still higher: 80 percent favored a bigger army and navy; and 91 percent an expanded air force. Yet, when in March, 1940—six months after the war had begun—the army asked for money to build 1,200 new military airplanes, congress, fearful of noisy isolationist blocs, appropriated enough to build exactly 50.

Not until the summer of 1941 did the experts of the state department decide that our trade relations with Japan were too liberal. Yet as early as three years before Pearl Harbor three voters out of every four wanted an embargo placed on the shipment of oil, scrap metal, gasoline and other war materials to Japan.

Similarly, on domestic problems, our people have been far ahead of their leaders on such issues as pay-as-you-go legislation, price-wage control, wartime rationing, and the need for no-strike legislation. The opinion of the general public toward non-union Americans, only about one in ten favors the closed shop—Reader's Digest.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

One reason why mosquito campaigns, rat campaigns and other pest campaigns don't get anywhere is that the sponsors never finish the job nor even make an advance survey to see how much time, effort and money it would require. Another reason is that the people do not demand success or full relief from these pests, but are lulled by the fact that some beginning has been made or some group or office has undertaken the task.

We don't know of anybody who defends flies, mosquitoes, rats and so on, but we likewise don't know of any person or group of persons who have sworn eternal enmity to them and proved a determination to carry on until they are wiped out.

But we are always full of hope, as in reading of the resolve of the Florida Chamber of Commerce to drive mosquitoes out of Florida or provide them graveyards here which we hope will go forward according to a definite and adequately financed plan to rid the state of this pest.

Mosquitoes not only carry disease, but they are a great nuisance, sufficient to drive people away from some vacation locations in summer and to keep tourists from coming here in the seasons when they are apt to be active. We don't know how much it would cost to rid Florida of mosquitoes, but we are sure it would be worth more than its cost, not only in health and comfort, but also in benefits measured in dollars and cents.—Orlando Sentinel.

TOURISTS FOREWARNED

Tourists who contemplate a winter vacation in Florida have been warned by the Office of Defense Transportation that they must take their own risks, on getting back home, if they ride the trains the coming season.

In a warning issued well ahead of the annual migration to Florida, ODT Director Johnson said that train travelers, "stand an excellent chance of being stranded," because "ODT will under no circumstances provide relief trains to return passengers to their homes. Pleasure travelers who fail to heed this warning will have to make their way northward as best they can and with no aid from this office."

Last winter, large numbers of tourists who had come to Florida for the "season," found that there were not enough train accommodations available when they wanted to return home, and upon appeal to the ODT several extra coach trains were operated from the Florida tourist belt on the east coast to carry them home. Now the ODT has served notice that such extra trains will not be supplied.

Just what effect this ruling of the ODT will have on the influx of tourists into Florida this coming winter is problematical. From all accounts the tide to the boyer coast and west coasts is already heavy, so it is doubtful that the warning will keep many away. But it is well that it was given out at this time, otherwise there would have been the usual demand, followed by public clamor, for extra train accommodations next spring, and the ODT would be held up as one of those bureaucratic things which trample on the rights of the people.—Ocala-Star-Banner.

Blue Devils Lose To Miami Edison

The Pahokee Blue Devils traveled to Fort Pierce on Thursday night this week for an important Indian River Conference game with the undefeated Gators. The result can only be said to be included in this issue of the Everglades News. Comparative scores of games held in the Indian River Conference last night were: Fort Pierce had a stronger team than Pahokee as the Eagles defeated Okechobee 37 to 0 while Pahokee's winning score over the Catfish was 20 to 0. Also Fort Pierce overcame Cocoa with ease whereas the Blue Devils had a tough time overpowering the Cocoa eleven with a one-touchdown margin.

The Blue Devils went into the game last night with their ace halfback, Billy Bridges, handicapped by a shoulder injury and several other players nursing minor injuries. Coach Osteen planned to start Frank Gillis at left half in place of Bridges and was not sure whether he would be able to play the latter at all during the evening. He also planned to start Fred May at right end; Tom Boland, right tackle; Johnny Carr, right guard; Thomas Dickson, center; Donald Harrington, left guard; Sam Lovell, left tackle; Donald Smith, left end; Frank Leandley, quarterback; Charles Singularity, right half; and Stokes Smith, full back. The Pahokee High School Band and its director, Robert O. Lampi, accompanied the team to the East Coast.

Outlasted in every department of the game, the Blue Devils gave the Miami Edison Red Raiders a real battle going down to a 20 to 0 defeat in last Friday's game. The lighter and less experienced local eleven played the visitors more or less on even terms in the first half, running up four first downs to the Raiders' five. The score at the end of the half was 7 to 0 and the contest still went tight. Pahokee even went so far as to outplay Edison in the second quarter when they came to the verge of scoring. Carr recovered an Edison fumble on the visitors' 46 and from there Stokes, Bridges and Handley in a sustained drive through the heavy Raider line carried the ball down to the Edison three yard line where they lost it on downs.

The Raiders came back with a bang in the second half with Byrman, Lendford and Wright finding plenty of holes in the first Blue Devil line and the Pahokee secondary was kept hard during the hard plunging Raider backs from breaking into the open. The Blue Devils played splendid defensive football up to the very last when they recovered an Edison fumble on their own one-yard line and kicked out of immediate danger as the whistle blew. A stiff wind prevented either outfit from opening up passing attacks.

Miss Edna Burdeshaw Weds Frank Kelly

Mr. and Mrs. Price Burdeshaw of Pahokee announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Edna Burdeshaw, to Frank Kelly, Jr., of Key West on Oct. 14. The vows were read by Rev. C. T. Howe, pastor of the Key West Methodist Episcopal Church.

Miss Hazel Todd of Pahokee and Cpl. Bob McKnight of Key West were attendants. The bride is a graduate of the Pahokee High School and up to the time of her marriage was employed as secretary in Attorney Frank Whidden's law office.

Mr. Kelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly, Sr., of Belle Glade and is employed at the Naval Base in Key West where the couple will make their home.

Mrs. Kelly was complemented at her shower and party given in the Lins Club building on Thursday night of last week by Mrs. Roy Kautz and Miss Hazel Todd, hostesses. Several toasts were played and Miss Clark Hull gave a reading. The bride received many lovely gifts. Over sixty guests were invited.

COMPARISON

Pahokee Blue Devils were defeated by Miami Edison by a score of 20 to 0. It is interesting to note that Miami Edison had 2,603 students in their 10, 11 and 12 grades, while Pahokee has 106 students in the same grades.

Another interesting sidelight on the comparisons is that Pahokee has 12 boys in the 10, 11 and 12 grades. This is the same number of boys that Miami Edison brought to Pahokee last Friday night on the football squad.

SO YOU LIKE TO FISH

They tell me that you're one of those fellows that has seen many a beautiful sunrise, that has seen a shining earth rise to the warmth of a new day, and watched the stars swallowed away by the conquering sun. Well, I hear you're a man that loves Nature. But listen, my friend, do you know God? It's surprising how many lovers of the great outdoors we have who do not even know the One who has made what they love. Our Lord Jesus is an outdoor man, too. He spent much of his time with men who loved Nature. I know of one time when He even preached from a fishing boat. (Sometime I believe I'll do that, too. Maybe there're more men out on the Indian River on Sunday than in Canal Point churches combined.)

I want some of you fellows that love Nature so much to come to know God. Don't treat the world just as an art gallery where it doesn't make any difference to you who the artists are; it vitally concerns you and makes a vast difference whether you know the Master Artist of this world or not! "Launch out" into the world of nature you already know and seek to know God. "Launch out into the deep" and meet a Savior. You've been so busy, and yet so far, out in the depths where the still waters flow. Hear Christ calling, "Come unto Me," obey His loving command, "Launch out"—and become "fishers of men."

If you have no other church affiliation, come with us Sunday morning at 11:00 to the Canal Point Baptist Church. The pastor will speak on "Obeying Christ's Command."

—Pastor Canal Point Baptist Church.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

Despite the drop in temperature last Sunday, fifty-nine were in attendance at the Men's Fellowship Bible class. Thanks to the continued increase in interest, one hundred and eight are now on the roll. Some fifty letters and pictures of the class were distributed among the men for mailing to sons and friends in the service. An order for more pictures, books, has gone in and it is expected that these will be ready this Sunday for those interested.

Dr. W. B. Allen, President of Stetson University, was a guest last Sunday. His few words of greeting were received with much favor. The lesson for this week is "Being Christian Towards Persons of Other Races," as found in Acts 10:34-35, 34:25 and Acts 17:24-28. The quartet will sing. The singing will be led by B. G. Adams. A most cordial invitation is extended to all visitors. The group meets in the Lins Club building each Sunday at 9:45.

To Commercialize Seaweed At Jensen

TALLAHASSEE, (FNS)—Another new and promising industry for Florida will be established at Jensen on the East Coast, where Stetson Company is going to build a $100,000 plant for the extraction of agar-agar from seaweed. Trustees of the internal improvement project have given the company exclusive rights for 10 years to gather seaweed from the Indian River from Ft. Pierce inlet to St. Lucie inlet.

Before the war Japan had a monopoly on the production of this valuable product, which is used primarily as a bacteriological culture and commercial jelly.

Evan's Cray of Stuart, attorney for the company, told state officials that the firm would pay one dollar a dry ton for the weed, with a guaranteed annual payment of $500.

Waste paper, tin and waste fats are still badly needed and housewives are urged by salvage officials to continue their efforts to salvage all their possibly usable material. The local Defense headquarters will arrange to pick up such materials or advise where you can turn them in. Every scrap of paper, every tin can, and every ounce of fat you save will help win the war that much sooner.

Put your "PAT" in the "FIRE"—The need for waste fats is as great as ever. There is plenty of fat in the fire of the big guns that are blasting our way into Germany and back to the Philippines. SAVE and turn in your waste fats. NOW!

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

by Russell Kay

Going anywhere now days is a real event, and the thought of travel brings visions of long lines at ticket windows, over-crowded trains, and buses, delays and inconveniences.

For the past year I have avoided travel as much as possible but last week when Dave Curtis, secretary of the Tampa Chamber of Commerce offered me an opportunity to journey to Arcadia as a member of a "good will" delegation, in a private travel coach, I couldn't resist.

Purpose of the trip was to attend the Fourth Annual South Florida Livestock Show and check on the storm damage in the towns along the route from Tampa to Arcadia.

The trip to the trip I would have been inclined to discount, the claims of loss and crop damage, but, after seeing grove after grove with full grown trees uprooted, the ground covered with fruit, fences and outbuildings torn up, power and telephone lines in a hopeless tangle and evidence on every hand testifying to the severity of the blow, I am convinced that these estimates are well justified.

Arriving at Arcadia we found the State Livestock Market where the show was in progress, swarming with people and very certain some beauties on exhibition along with a nice showing of Angus, Braford and Santa Gertrudis. All stock coming off of summer ranges was in the prime of condition, fat, sleek and shining. Entries for the most part were from Highlands, Sarasota, DeSoto and Polk Counties.

That evening as guests of Harry Williams of the DeSoto County Chamber of Commerce, we attended a bang-up barbecue, where we sampled the excellent quality of Florida grown beef and pork and feasted on succulent swine cabbage. General Jerry McCloud as master of ceremonies introduced State Marketing Commissioner L. M. Rhodes, who mixed his cattle industry statistics with just the right amount of funny stories to keep us in a receptive mood.

I was fortunate in making the acquaintance of a number of members of Commerce in the person of little Jimmie Johnson, a youngster of 8 or 10, who devoted the evening to seeing that I was properly taken care of. He insisted on personally pilting my paper plate high with food and providing me with a "dinner" cup of steaming coffee. All the while he lost no opportunity to impress me with what a good town Arcadia was and he would up by inviting me to return on November 11th when Billy Weller will stage his annual Florida rodeo, promising that if I came I could see him ride a steer. Jimmie wasn't handing me a line either for these cattle country kids learn to ride and rope from their swaddling clothes, boys and girls alike, and that is why the future of Florida cattle industry is assured.

With the election only a week off I was anxious to feel the pulse of the folks down in this section while I could label the country Democratic. I can tell you that there will be a substantial anti-Administration, anti-Pepper vote in these ranges, and some of the more straight-thinking, square-shooting lot and they are plenty sharp-eyed on the present situation and frankly tell you so. Both Dewey and Draper should poll a good vote in this territory.

Arriving at the Right-to-Work amendment, I am satisfied it will carry in the county as will all candidates for State and local offices. The Democratic ticket, they like Tom Watson and admire his fighting spirit and courage and they like Milford Caldwell and feel he will make a splendid governor, but they are pretty much fed up on centralization, bureaucratic government and with the administration's tie up with Browder and Hillman.

Thanks, Arcadia and DeSoto County, for a wonderful time and if I can make it, I'll be back on Nov. 11 for your All-Florida Rodeo. I know it will be a great show and leader. I want to see my friend, Jimmie Johnson, ride that steer.

Gilbert Freeman Dies Suddenly

TALLAHASSEE.—Gilbert Freeman, 52, who has been associated with Comptroller J. M. Lee's office since 1933, died suddenly at his home here Tuesday morning from a heart attack.

Freeman was found dead in a chair by J. Edward Bell, Jr., who sent him to the house to pick him up for a ride into town.

Bell reported Freeman telephoned him a few minutes before he died, requesting a ride to the capitol. He gave no indication of any illness then.

Freeman was a native of Tampa. His mother, Mrs. Zena J. Freeman, one brother, Douglas Freeman; and one sister, Mrs. W. J. Hodges, Jr., live in Tampa. Freeman was connected with the Tampa Tribune for several years before he became publisher of a weekly newspaper in Highlands

Someday, you'll be mighty glad you met one of these Americans!

Maybe it will be a man. Or it may be a woman.

Anyway, sometime between Nov. 20th and Dec. 16th, someone is going to come to you and ask you to dig down deep into your pocketbook and come up with some extra cash.

Enough extra cash to buy at least one extra $100 War-Bond in the 6th War Loan!

Welcome him—or her. These Victory Volunteers are patriotic Americans, working extra hours, working extra hard—doing a vitally necessary war job.

They're doing a job for Uncle Sam—for our fighting men—for you!

They're making it easy for you to do what every one of us at home must do—fight this war to a finish with our dollars.

And they're making it easy for you to do what every one of us wants to do—look after your family's future by laying aside money for that future. War Bonds are the safest, soundest investment in the world today. Every dollar you put into them will come back to you—and bring more dollars with it. Dollars that can help to guarantee a busy, prosperous future for this whole country and everybody in it.

So—when the Victory Volunteer comes, welcome him. Buy that extra $100 Bond! For the day is coming when, both for your country's sake and your own, you'll be mighty glad he came around to you!

And here are 6 more reasons for buying at least an extra $100 War Bond in the 6th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 at maturity.
3. War Bonds are as convenient as cash—and increase in value to boot!
4. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, a nest egg to fall back on, come what may.
5. War Bonds help keep down the cost of living.
6. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the war.
